

THE MEATRIX

Blurbs:

The Meatrix movies combined blurb:

The Meatrix, The Meatrix II: Revolting and The Meatrix II½ expose the truth behind today's industrial meat and dairy production, from a factory farm to the processing plant. The Flash animations use humor, entertainment and pop culture to educate audiences. Produced by Sustainable Table (www.sustainabletable.org) and Free Range Studios (www.freerangestudios.com).

The Meatrix blurb:

Created by Free Range Studios (www.freerangestudios.com) for the GRACE's Sustainable Table program (www.sustainabletable.org), The Meatrix is a humorous 4-minute Flash animation that spoofs The Matrix films while drawing attention to the problems caused by factory farming.

The Meatrix II: Revolting blurb:

The Meatrix II: Revolting is the sequel to the award-winning smash hit The Meatrix. The film, a humorous spoof on the "Matrix," takes a look at the gap between our illusions about where food comes from and the reality of industrial meat and dairy production. Produced by Sustainable Table (www.sustainabletable.org) and Free Range Studios (www.freerangestudios.com).

The Meatrix II ½ blurb:

Taking the fast out of fast food. The action continues in The Meatrix II ½ as our heroes Moopheus, Leo and Chickity learn firsthand about the problems with meat processing. Produced by Sustainable Table (www.sustainabletable.org) and Free Range Studios (www.freerangestudios.com) for Participant Productions and their Fast Food Nation social action campaign (www.participate.net/fastfoodnation).
